New Paltz SEPTA

Being formed

Special Education Parent Teacher Association

A place to come together.

What we are forming: a parent-teacher organization of the New Paltz Central School District that supports students with special needs and/or learning differences and their families.

Connect

Meet other parents and caregivers in a welcoming space. Share experiences, ask questions and build community across schools.

Support and grow

Attend workshops and hear great speakers on educational topics. Find parent training, community resources, and information about K-12 programs and services.

Advocate and support

Understand IEPs, 504 plans, disabilities and diagnoses, and family rights. Find support for academic and social concerns and school needs.

Who belongs here

- Parents and caregivers
- Teachers and school staff
- Students and self-advocates
- SUNY New Paltz students and faculty
- Therapists and support professionals
- Community members who care

Help shape our SEPTA

- Share your interests and tell us what would help your family.
- Suggest a workshop, speaker or topic.
- Help plan a gathering or lend a hand when you can.
- All school stages welcome, from preschool through high school and transition to adulthood, including families in BOCES and out-of-district placements.

Our New Paltz PTA community

Our school PTAs bring New Paltz families together. SEPTA adds a special education community, and we welcome participation in all our groups.
